

Dear

As a fundraising professional, it's important to be aware of industry trends; learn the latest fundraising methods; and know industry best practices for donor communication, retention, and stewardship. Therefore, I would like your support to attend the Qgiv Conference from the evening of Wednesday, January 17th until Saturday, January 20th on behalf of

As you know, Qgiv is a leading online donation platform that's been helping nonprofits raise more money since its founding in 2007. Their conference will bring together industry thought leaders and professional fundraisers for two days packed full of new knowledge, tips, and tools to empower fundraising professionals to make the world a better place. I'm confident the lessons I learn at this conference will make me a more capable fundraiser and benefit

This will be accomplished by:

- Sessions like: _____
- Earning credits toward CFRE certification by taking part in sessions that provide new skills and fundraising knowledge
- Becoming more familiar with our Qgiv fundraising tools by scheduling one-on-one time with a Qgiv employee
- Networking with other fundraising professionals to discover new fundraising strategies, unique event ideas, and potential strategic partnerships with other nonprofits

To attend this conference, I am requesting

This amount includes:

- Registration Fee:
$600 if booked before 10/2
$650 if booked before 12/15
$700 if booked before 1/5
- Meals:
- Hotel Accommodations:
- Airfare/Travel Costs:

I'm confident the Qgiv Conference will provide a great return on the money and time we invest. Not only will I earn credits toward CFRE certification, I'll be exposed to innovative ideas from industry thought leaders that we can employ to delight our donors and raise more money for

Thank you for considering this request for funding to attend the Qgiv Conference.

Sincerely,
